

Johannes Sandhäger, M.A.

---

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Institut für Geschichtswissenschaften

Visiting Address: Friedrichstraße 191-193, D-10117 Berlin, Raum 4091

Postal Address: Unter den Linden 6, D-10099 Berlin

E-Mail: johannes.sandhaeger@hu-berlin.de

Phone: +49 (0) 30 2093 70556

Education

---

- Since 09/21     PhD, History
Chair for Social and Economic History, Humboldt-University Berlin
Project „European Banks‘ International Company and European Integration 1957-1995“, part of graduate school Europa als Gewinn
(funded by Stiftung Bildung und Wissenschaft), supervised by Prof.
Dr Alexander Nützenadel and Prof. Dr Heike Wieters
- 10/18-08/21    M.A. History of Global Markets
Georg August University, Göttingen
Thesis: The Decline of Pan American Airways 1955-1991: A
Matter of Historical Path Dependence, supervised by Apl. Prof.
Dr Ingo Köhler and Prof. Dr Hartmut Berghoff
- 10/15-09/18    B.A. Economic and Social History and History
Georg August University, Göttingen

Professional Activities and Academic Service

---

- 10/19-07/21    Student Assistant
Institute for Economic and Social History, Georg August University,
Göttingen
- 03/19-12/19    Working Student
Arolsen Archives – International Center on Nazi Persecution

Memberships

---

Arbeitskreis für kritische Unternehmens- und Industriegeschichte e.V.
Gesellschaft für Unternehmensgeschichte e.V.

Conference Presentations and Academic Talks

---

25/-26/04/22    “Deutsche Bank and EBIC in European Integration 1958-1995”
At the conference “Business, banks and the making of Europe’s
Economic and Monetary Union (EMU), 1957-1992” at Adam Smith
Business School, University of Glasgow

As a PhD student in social and economic history, I am studying the history of banks and European integration. During my bachelor’s and master’s studies at the University of Göttingen, I was interested in business history, especially marketing history, conflict history, and the history of bankruptcy during the 20th century from a transatlantic perspective. My current research project examines the role of banks in European integration from 1957 to 1995. The project, which started in September 2021, is supervised by Heike Wieters and Alexander Nützenadel as part of the Graduate school Europa als Gewinn. It is funded by the Stiftung Bildung und Wissenschaft.